Selinsgrove Speedway opened its 2020 season on Saturday night with Rick Eckert of York taking the super late model victory worth $4000 in a flag to flag run while Christian Rumsey of Middletown, New York scored a win in the 305 sprint main.

Eckert started on the pole of the 30 lap super late model main and outdistanced Gregg Satterlee of Rochester Mills for his eighth career win at the Snyder County oval. 28 super late models had signed in for the event.

The York driver withstood three restarts with Satterlee lined up directly behind but on every occasion he was able to pull away from the field.

During the mid-stages of the event Eckert stretched his lead to nearly three seconds but at the end his margin of victory was 1.635 seconds.

Bryan Bernheisel originally crossed the line in third but was credited with 14th after post race inspection.

Jim Yoder assumed the third spot followed by ninth starter Jeff Rine ad Alex Ferree.

Heats for the super late models went to Eckert, Bernheisel and Satterlee with Nathan Long taking the consolation race.

Ferree of Saxonburg set fast time in the late model qualifications with a lap of 20.581 seconds.

A field of 51 Apache Tree Service 305 sprint cars were in action and Nick Sweigart led the 20 lap feature event from the pole for the first 13 laps before Doug Dodson muscled by for the lead.

Sweigart then slowed to a stop on the track with four laps to go setting up a volley of restarts before Dodson surrendered the lead thanks to a flat tire.

Christian Rumsey who started 14th in the field, then took command and stormed to the victory, capping off a fine run from mid-pack.

Landon Price rode home second followed by Dave Graber, 11th place starter Kassidy Kreitz and Devin Adams.

Heats for the 305's went to Dave Grube, Jared Zionkowski, Price, Kyle Keen and Dodson

Larry McVey won the B-Main and Nathan Gramley won the C-Main.
